NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK CELEBRATION-2026

IIST LIRD is organising the following events, as part of the National Library Week Celebrations

Training Session on "IIST Virtual Library (IVL)"

The training session will cover how to access subscribed e-resources through a unified single interface (IVL), both on and off the campus, at any time. Participants will be trained how to set up offline access to e-resources.

16.11.2026 10:30 AM R&D Conference Hall

An Online Workshop on "Orginality Matters: Navigating Plagiarism with Ethical Use of AI"

An online session specially designed for researchers, students, and faculty members to uphold academic integrity in publications in the age of AI. This interactive workshop will guide participants on the responsible use of artificial intelligence in academic and research publications without compromising authentic scholarship.

19 November 2026 2:30 PM

The Joy of Sharing Books: Read and Share Programme

A book swap initiative to promote the joy of reading and give books a second life. Let us keep the joy of reading alive by sharing the books we love. Bring a good read to share and take home your next favourite book!

14-20 November 2026 Library and Information Resource Division

Next Generation Pages: Books Bridging Science, Technology, and Society

Exhibition of curated books showcasing the key themes, emerging trends, and diverse perspectives across the subject areas of ICMST.

18 - 21 November 2026 Library and Information Resource Division

